Subject: 404 Panel at Marco Island Next Week

All,

As you may have heard, Herschel Vinyard had to bow out of participating in our 404 panel this year at Florida Chamber's Summer School Permitting conference. Due to his unavailability, I agreed to trade in my panelist role for that of moderator. So, I wanted to take care of a few quick housekeeping items...

1. Please email me your bio.
2. Please see the attached list of questions I plan to use to moderate the panel. Let me know if you are ok with addressing the identified issues (each question has a name next to it). I do not believe that any formal presentation is needed, and my hope is that these questions will enable us to have an engaging and somewhat free form discussion. If you want to use a power point for any part of our discussion, however, please let me know by the end of the week. Also, if there are any topics you would particularly like me to queue up or avoid (for whatever reason), just let me know. I will try to keep the discussion moving and easy breezy.
3. I will send each of you a calendar invite, just to make sure you have the times and location of our panels on your calendar.

You all are experts on this topic and will no doubt do a fantastic job educating attendees. Like last year, the audience will likely be a mix of environmental consultants, attorneys, mitigation bankers, land owners, developers, and environmental advocates. Some attendees live and breathe 404 permitting; others will have wandered into the conference room with almost zero context or understanding of any of the issues.

If there is anything I can do for any of you, just let me know. And my apologies for the late hour at which I am reaching out. I just stepped into this role, so I am trying to get us squared away as quickly as possible.

Best Regards,

David W. Childs
